FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Super Channel brings a sleigh-full of holiday movie cheer to Canadians with its annual Heart & Home Christmas programming event

November 21 to January 3

EDMONTON (Oct 6, 2020) – Christmas is around the corner and Super Channel invites viewers to grab a mug of hot chocolate and get ready to cozy up for their yearly fix of holiday flicks, with its annual Heart & Home Christmas holiday programming event.

With 19 holiday movies new to Super Channel Heart & Home, including 14 titles making their Canadian premieres, this season’s offering of festive films is sure to keep viewers merry and bright all season long. Kicking off on November 21 and concluding on January 3, the holiday programming event gets underway with the Canadian broadcast premiere of Christmas 9 to 5, a Canadian made feature starring Tiya Sicar, Joe Dinicol, Sheila McCarthy and George Wendt. A second Canadian made title, Christmas Crush, will make its Canadian debut on Nov 28. Viewers will then be treated to a new Canadian broadcast premiere every Saturday & Sunday night in December leading into the Christmas week, which will offer a new Canadian broadcast premiere every night of the week (Mon – Fri). A full listing follows below. As usual, all holiday movies will air commercial free and will be available on Super Channel On Demand throughout the holiday season and beyond.

“We could all use a little extra Christmas cheer this holiday season,” said Don McDonald, President and CEO, Super Channel. “With families spending more time together at home and looking for content to lift their spirits, we are excited to once again bring an outstanding collection of holiday films to Super Channel Heart & Home. Whether looking for movies that celebrate the true meaning of Christmas, the traditions of home and family, the fun and cheer of the holidays or just a little holiday romance, we invite everyone to join us for a feel-good, light-hearted escape at the end of a challenging year.”
