Catching A Serial Killer: Bruce McArthur nominated for Best Documentary Program

EDMONTON (February 16, 2022) – Super Channel proudly congratulates its production partners following the unveiling of the 2022 Canadian Screen Award nominations yesterday.

Super Channel programming garnered a total of 25 nominations, consisting of 10 television and digital nominations and 15 nominations for Super Channel supported feature films. The Super Channel Heart & Home feature Faith Heist from No Equal Entertainment was recognized with five nominations including Best Direction – TV Movie, Best Writing – TV Movie, as well as Best TV Movie. Commissioned by the BBC and CBC/Radio-Canada in association with Super Channel, The North Water, a UK/Canada treaty co-production from Canada’s Rhombus Media and the UK’s See-Saw Films, received four nominations, including Best Drama Series. The five-part limited series is available now on Super Channel Fuse, as well as streaming and On Demand. The Super Channel original true-crime documentary, Catching a Serial Killer: Bruce McArthur from Peacock Alley Entertainment was nominated as Best Documentary Program.

“We were ecstatic to see our deserving production partners recognized with Canadian Screen Award nominations,” said Don McDonald, President and CEO, Super Channel. “We are proud to bring these exceptional programs to our viewers and do our part to help elevate the discoverability of Canadian content to a national audience. We extend our warmest congratulations to all of the nominees.”
